

Assessing the Influence of Tourism on India: A Case Study of Nagpur

Dr. Rukshana Billimoria

Principal

Anjuman-I-Islam's Institute of Hospitality Management, Mumbai, India

Abstract: Tourism is a multi-faceted phenomenon involving movement and staying in destinations outside the normal residence. India is a vast country with rich historical and cultural heritage. In recent years tourism in India has come up at rapid growth. India has succeeded in becoming the most preferred place amongst domestic and international traveler. Tourism economy in India accounts 5.6 per cent of GDP supports 5.8 per cent of the total employment and generates 10.8% of the total exports from the country. The present study is to measure the impact of tourism in India and to analyse the attraction of tourist towards Nagpur and their opinions and suggestions.

Keywords: Archaeology, Impact, Resource, Sustainable, Tourist.

REFERENCES

- [1]. J.K.Sharma (2000), Tourism Planning and Development, Kanishka Publishers, New Delhi.
- [2]. Ratan Deep Singh (1996), Tourism India: Hospitality Services, Kanishka Publishers, New Delhi.
- [3]. Romila Chawla (2003), Global Tourism, Sonali Publications, New Delhi.
- [4]. Javaid Akhtar (1990), Tourism Management in India, Ashish Publication House, New Delhi.
- [5]. Dr.S.Bhardwaj (1990), Domestic Tourism in India, Indus Publishing Co. New Delhi.
- [6]. K.R.Dixit, Maharashtra in Maps
- [7]. MTDC / ITDC referred