

Concept of Child Rights

Mrs. S. Sridevi

Assistant Professor in English

K.S.R. College of Education, Tiruchengode, Namakkal, Tamilnadu, India

Abstract: The greatest treasure in everyone's life is their child. It can say in another word as god's boon. A single child can change the world. The child has all the power to mould the destiny of a nation. Every child has boundless courage, zeal, capacity & skill to change the nation into a powerful country. Children can build the nation by investing in them in their early age will provide a foundation for future success in both economically and socially for the entire nation. Child can reform anything in the nation. Every child can bring different changes in the world if they can be guide and support with right time with right path. Children's are considered as god's representative and also they are the most innocent person in the world. Children's are encouraged to do rectify their mistakes instead of punishment because they are the tomorrow's citizens. So, this paper discussing about the concept of child rights

Keywords: God's Boon, Real Heroes and Heroines, Nation Builders, Citizen