Abstract: Pregamed is a comprehensive digital platform designed to support pregnant women throughout their maternity journey. This research paper presents the motivation, design, implementation, and impact of Pregamed, a user-friendly web-based solution that streamlines appointment scheduling, vaccination tracking, and healthcare management for expecting mothers. The platform leverages modern web technologies to address the critical gaps in maternal health care accessibility, especially in underserved communities. Early-stage user testing indicates the potential of such tools in enhancing maternal healthcare awareness and compliance.
