Abstract: The proposed research paper exposes the pathetic situation of the human rights of schedule tribes in the world's largest democracy of India in general and particularly of Gujarat. The tribals are the people whose existence has remained precarious since centuries. They were made helpless by the colonial British governments and after independence, all the Indian successive governments also carried forward tribals' state of helplessness. The Constitutional rights enshrined in the V and VI Schedules have remained pious promises only on paper. On the contrary, many unjust and anti-tribal laws have remained in force and the governments have hardly take notice of the situation of tribal seven after 75th years of independence and 72 years of republic.
